STATINTL

1. I informed Mr. Dompierre that while there was very little that I could tell [redacted], if it would be of assistance to their office, I would talk with him. In this connection, [redacted] of the office of AD/Personnel has briefed me on the file. STATINTL

2. [redacted] of PSB called to state that they had had an indirect inquiry from Sen. Nixon on psychological warfare, and agreed with my thought that with the approval of the President it might be advisable to brief the political candidates on certain aspects of intelligence and psychological warfare so that they did not become a campaign issue.

3. I interviewed [redacted] at the request of the office of Senator Ferguson. (See memo for the record this date.)
